THE GUN WRITER COVERS THE FIREARMS INDUSTRY, NEW PRODUCTS AND NEWS OF INTEREST TO GUN OWNERS, TACTICAL TRAINERS AND SPORT SHOOTERS.

Started as a newspaper blog, The Gun Writer is the creation of lifelong shooter Lee Williams.

A veteran journalist, he fuses his experiences as an investigative reporter with his service in the US Army as well as in law enforcement to provide current, topical news and information for a national audience of collectors, enthusiasts and industry professionals.

Accessing the site directly, through searches as well as social media outlets, The Gun Writer readers click through from every corner of the country and spend an average of more than four minutes per visit.

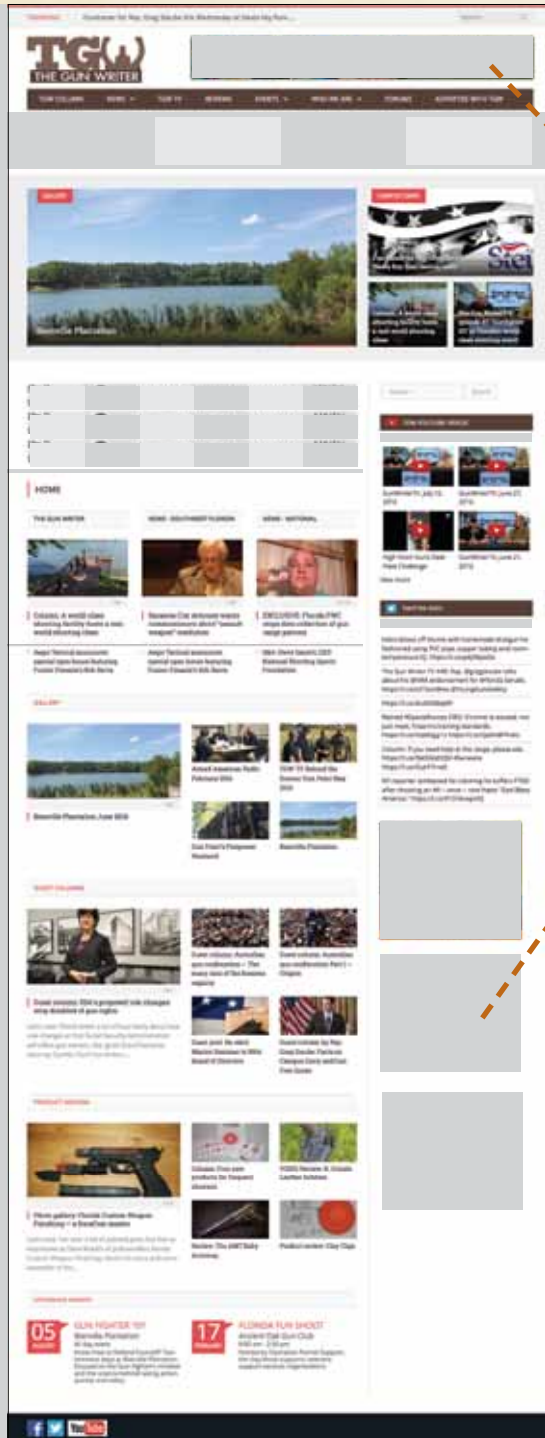

Gun owners are a passionate and well-versed demographic who have disposable income they're ready to spend on firearms products and training. The Gun Writer team speaks directly to this audience every day, providing your company with a direct pipeline to spotlight your product or service.
